A Professional Theatre in High School

My students need the tools to prepare them for the professional world. With the wireless Shure microphones and the Chauvet moving spot light, they can be ready for that world.

My Students

I am a theatre teach at in Las Vega, NV. I have the best group of students anyone could ask for. And I know what you're thinking, "That's what everyone says," but mine are. We have rehearsals everyday until AT LEAST 5:00pm. None of them ever complain. They do it all with a smile. Every time I push them, they ask for more. They are constantly impressing me.

| I strive for professionalism.

I tell my students that this is a professional theatre and that they need to act professionally. They do everything that I ask of them. I, unfortunately, am not operating as a professional theatre. I am lacking the equipment to make this place professional.

My Project

The Kaleidoscope Theatre in Las Vegas, Nevada is centered on establishing a professional atmosphere for its students, their learning, and their ability to leave the facility having the knowledge necessary for future theatrical work. The tools and equipment that students and staff use on a daily basis, are not up to date, and therefore, fails to meet the goals we have in place for our learners. We need the wireless Shure microphones and the Chauvet intimidator moving spot light to become a more professional learning environment, Over 47 performances are conducted in the Kaleidoscope Theatre in just one academic year. This includes ceremonies, concerts, plays/musicals, recitals, classes and assemblies. This facility is constantly being used and needs working materials to keep its professional reputation.

| Theatre is an art that is vastly overlooked in schools.

The Kaleidoscope Theatre is lacking in both materials and funding, which is important for something that is advancing and updating constantly. A donation of any kind to the theatre department would allow the school to obtain equipment necessary for a professional learning environment.

Donations to this project are now being matched, thanks to support from An Anonymous Arts Funder. Every child should have access to essential art materials and experiences. An education in the arts makes children well-rounded, engaged, and active citizens of the world. This project has been supported in an effort to ensure that all students gain from the many benefits that arts education provides.
